Fiba Rule 4.4.2- other equipment

Rule Change:

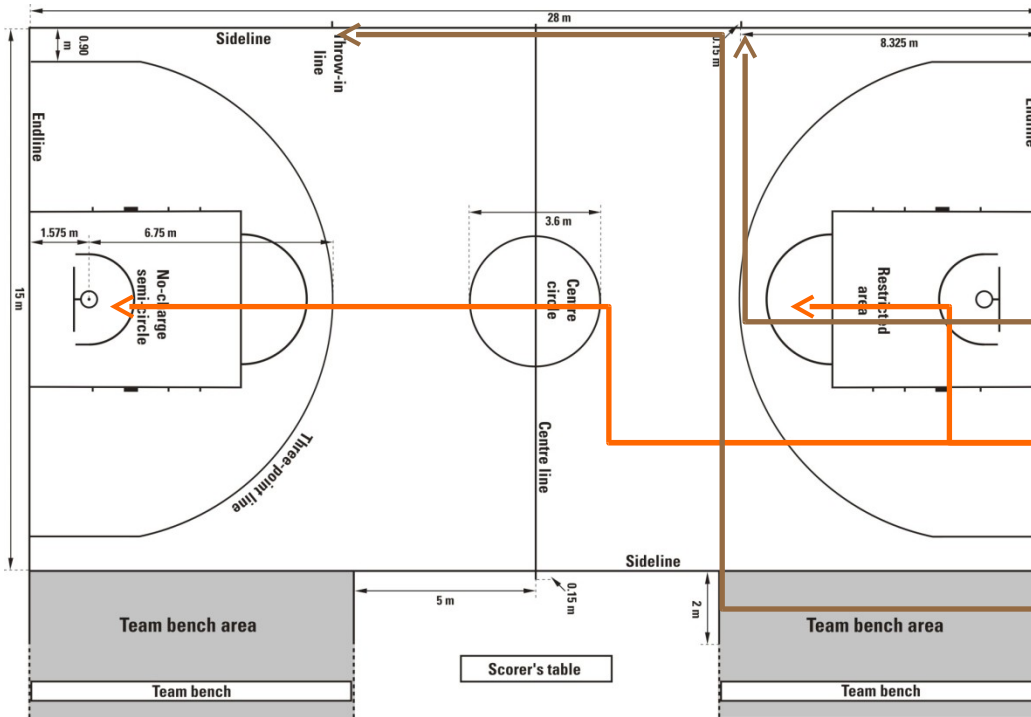

It is no longer permitted for a player to wear undergarments that extend below the level of the shorts when standing stationary.

Fiba Rule 7.5- coaches: duties and powers

Rule Change:

The assistant coach may now stand instead of the coach (the coach must be sat down) within the team bench area, however the Assistant Coach is not permitted to address the officials.

Art 2- fiba rules: court markings

All teams playing in England Basketball Senior National League must have the new court markings otherwise the game will be defaulted 0-20. Temporary tape is ok.

No charge semi-circles

Throw-in lines

New court markings- rule 17.2.4 throw-in line

Rule Change:

If a time-out is called by the offensive team in the last 2 minutes of the 4th quarter or any periods of overtime, the ball is now advanced to the throw in line at the 3 point line extended (instead of the half-way line) opposite the scorer's table.

Fiba rule 33.10: no-charge semi circle

- Is it a penetration situation?
- Are both of the defenders feet completely inside the semi-circle?
- Illegal use of the hands, arms, legs or body can't be used by the attacker?

If all of these are satisfied then a charge CAN'T be called.

In or not?

Both feet must be completely inside the no-charge semi-circle (not on the line)

Offensive player charges into defensive player with a legal guarding position inside semi-circle (except when the offensive player has come from behind the backboard)

NO CALL

Offensive player charges into defensive player with a illegal guarding position inside semi-circle

BLOCKING FOUL

Offensive player charges into defensive player with a legal guarding position outside the semi-circle

CHARGING FOUL

Offensive player illegally uses hands, arms, legs or body on a defensive player with a legal guarding position inside the semi-circle

OFFENSIVE FOUL

rebounds

The no-charge semi circle rule isn't applied on rebound situations (see 3rd clip)

Fiba rule 19.3.1: substitutions

Rule Change:

A player now does not have to ask verbally for a substitution, he can either sit on the subs chair or make the correct sign with his hands. Note the rule says that he must be ready to play immediately, if he/she still has their warm-up top on they are not ready to play!

Fiba rule 29.2.1- 24/14 second rule

EXPLANATION:

If a foul or a violation occurs such that the resulting throw-in is to be administered in the backcourt the clock is reset to 24 seconds (same as current rule)

E.g. A foul occurs in the backcourt with 20 seconds on the 24 second clock, the 24 second clock is reset to 24.

If a foul or a violation occurs such that the resulting throw-in is to be administered in the frontcourt the clock is reset as follows:

If there are 14 or more seconds on the 24 second clock, the clock is NOT reset

E.g. A foul occurs in the frontcourt with 17 seconds on the 24 second clock, the 24 second clock is held on 17.

If there are 13 or less seconds on the 24 second clock, the clock is reset to 14

E.g. A foul occurs in the frontcourt with 11 seconds on the 24 second clock, the 24 second clock is reset to 14.

BALL INBOUNDED IN BACK COURT= 24 seconds

BALL INBOUNDED IN FRONT COURT= HOLD IF 14+ seconds OR RESET TO 14 IF LESS

Fiba rule 29.2.1- 24/14 second rule

FOULS

THROW IN= WHERE FOUL OCCURS (NOT WHERE THE BALL IS)

E.g. 1- The ball is in the frontcourt and 11 are on the 24 second clock, however a foul is called in the backcourt.

As the foul has occurred in the backcourt, the ball will be inbounded in the backcourt, therefore the shot clock is reset to 24.

E.g. 2- The ball is in the backcourt and 19 seconds are shown on the 24 seconds clock and a foul is called in the front court.

As the foul has occurred in the front court , the ball will be inbounded in the front court, the 24 second clock is held on 19 as 14 or more seconds still remain on the 24 second clock

Fiba rule 29.2.1- 24/14 second rule

VIOLATIONS

THROW IN= WHERE THE VIOLATION WAS

Offensive player commits violation= CHANGE OF POSSESSION SO NEW 24

Defensive player commits violation in back court= RESET TO 24.

Defensive player commits violation & in front court= HOLD IF 14+ seconds OR RESET TO 14 IF LESS

PLAYER INJURIES

THROW IN= WHERE THE BALL WAS WHEN GAME STOPPED

Offensive player is injured= NO RESET

Defensive play injured & ball in back court= RESET TO 24.

Defensive play injured & ball in front court= HOLD IF 14+ seconds OR RESET TO 14 IF LESS

Fiba rule 29.2.1- 24/14 second rule

HAVE A GO!!

1. Team A has dribbled the ball for 16 seconds, now in the front court, player B3 appears to be injured, the referee stops the game. Shall the 24 second clock be reset to 14?
2. During the last 2 minutes of the game, A4 is awarded a last or only free throw. The free throw is successful and Team B is granted a time-out. After the time-out, the game is resumed by a throw-in from the throw-in line opposite the scorer's table in Team B's frontcourt. Shall Team B now have 14 seconds on the 24 second clock.
3. A2 is dribbling the ball in the front court, the shot clock is showing 13 seconds. A foul is then called on B5 in the backcourt. The shot is reset to 14 seconds and the ball is inbounded in the backcourt. Correct procedure?
4. B1 is dribbling her front court. 20 seconds are left on the 24 second clock. An offensive foul is called on B4 in their backcourt (Team A's front court). The shot clock is reset to 14 seconds and Team A is awarded the ball in their front court. Correct procedure?
5. Team A are in control of the ball in their back court, 19 seconds remain on the 24 second clock when a foul is called on B3 for holding A7 in the back court. The game clock shows 1:58. A time-out is then called by Team A. The ball is advanced to the throw-in line at the free-throw line extended. Shall Team A only have 19 seconds on the 24 second clock?
6. Team A has been dribbling the ball in the backcourt for 6 seconds (18 seconds remain on the 24 second clock). The referee then calls a double foul on A4 and B6. Shall the game resume with Team A possession in the backcourt with 18 seconds remaining on the 24 second clock?
7. Team A is in their front court with 11 seconds on the shot clock when a foot violation occurs, shall Team A have 14 seconds on the shot clock?

Fiba rule 29.2.1- 24/14 second rule

1. Team A has dribbled the ball for 16 seconds, now in the front court, player B3 appears to be injured, the referee stops the game. Shall the 24 second clock be reset to 14?

YES

As the ball will be brought in where the stoppage occurred (in the front court) and there are less than 14 seconds remaining on the 24 second clock it is to be reset to 14.

Fiba rule 29.2.1- 24/14 second rule

2. During the last 2 minutes of the game, A4 is awarded a last or only free throw. The free throw is successful and Team B is granted a time-out. After the time-out, the game is resumed by a throw-in from the throw-in line opposite the scorer's table in Team B's frontcourt. Shall Team B now have 14 seconds on the 24 second clock?

NO

There should be 24 seconds on the clock as no foul or violation has occurred.

E.g.- If a basket is scored by Team A and then Team B calls a time-out in the last 2 minutes as no foul or violation has occurred Team B shall have a full 24 seconds from the throw-in line at the free-throw line extended.

Fiba rule 29.2.1- 24/14 second rule

3. A2 is dribbling the ball in the front court, the shot clock is showing 13 seconds. A foul is then called on B5 in the backcourt. The shot is reset to 14 seconds and the ball is inbounded in the backcourt. Correct procedure?

NO

As the foul occurred in the back court the ball must be inbounded from the back court, thus resetting the shot clock to 24 seconds.

Fiba rule 29.2.1- 24/14 second rule

4. B1 is dribbling in her front court. 20 seconds are left on the 24 second clock. An offensive foul is called on B4 in their backcourt (Team A's front court). The shot clock is reset to 14 seconds and Team A is awarded the ball in their front court. Correct procedure?

NO

An offensive foul is a change of team possession, therefore the 24 second clock is always reset to 24 no matter where the foul occurred or where the ball was.

Fiba rule 29.2.1- 24/14 second rule

5. Team A are in control of the ball in their back court, 19 seconds remain on the 24 second clock when a foul is called on B3 for holding A7 in the back court. The game clock shows 1:58. A time-out is then called by Team A. The ball is advanced to the throw-in line at the free-throw line extended. Shall Team A only have 19 seconds on the 24 second clock?

YES

As the ball is being advanced, and thus being inbounded in the front court the clock is either held or reset to 14. In this case the clock is above 14 seconds (19 seconds) therefore the clock is HELD ON 19 seconds.

Fiba rule 29.2.1- 24/14 second rule

6. Team A has been dribbling the ball in the backcourt for 6 seconds (18 seconds remain on the 24 second clock). The referee then calls a double foul on A4 and B6. Shall the game resume with Team A possession in the backcourt with 18 seconds remaining on the 24 second clock?

YES

If a double foul is called, the 24 second clock is never reset no matter where the ball is, where the double foul occurs or the team in possession.

Fiba rule 29.2.1- 24/14 second rule

7. Team A is in their front court with 11 seconds on the shot clock when a foot violation occurs, shall Team A have 14 seconds on the shot clock?

YES

As the violation has occurred in the front court, the front court rule applies.
